DETAILED ACTION

Application Status

1. By virtue of a preliminary amendment filed on 5/13/2005, claims 4-5, 9, 16-17, 23-30 and 34-37 has been canceled; and claims 14, and 19 have been amended. Thus, claims 1-3, 6-8, 10-15, 18-22 and 31-33 are pending in the instant case.

Restriction

2. Restriction is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 and 372.

This application contains the following inventions or groups of inventions, which are not so linked as to form a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1.

In accordance with 37 CFR 1.499, applicant is required, in reply to this action, to elect a single invention to which the claims must be restricted.

- I. Claims 1-3, 6-8 and 10, drawn to a composition comprising the ligand binding domain of farnesoid X receptor (FXR) in crystalline form.
- II. Claims 11-13, drawn to a computer for producing a three-dimensional representation of a farnesoid X receptor.
- III. Claims 14-15 and 18-20, drawn to a method of predicting a molecule capable of binding to FXR.
- IV. Claims 21-22, drawn to a compound identified by the method of claim 19.
- V. claims 31-33. drawm to a method for determining whether a test compound is capable of binding to the FXR.

The inventions listed as Groups I-V do not relate to a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1 because, under PCT Rule 13.2, they lack the same or corresponding special technical features for the following reasons:

The invention of Group I, a first product, requires as its special technical feature of a composition comprising the ligand binding domain of farnesoid X receptor (FXR) in crystalline form. This special technical feature is not required by Group II-V for the following reasons. The invention of Group II is a computer which is wholly different materials whereas the Group I comprises amino acids. The method of Group III involves step of screening molecules in silico with a three-dimensional structure of FXR. Group IV is a small organic molecule. The method of Group V comprises step of determining and analyzing the interaction between the FXR and ligands. Therefore, Group II-IV do not share the special technical feature of a composition comprising the ligand binding domain of farnesoid X receptor (FXR) in crystalline form; thus, they do not relate to a single general inventive concept.

Election of Species

3. This application contains claims directed to more than one species of the generic invention. These species are deemed to lack unity of invention because they are not so linked as to form a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1.
The species are as follows:

Each ligand in Claim 3 (i.e., fexaramine, fexarine, fexarene and GW4064) is a single species.

Applicant is required, in reply to this action, to elect a single species which the claims shall be restricted if no generic claim is finally held to be allowable. The reply must also identify the claims readable on the elected species, including any claims subsequently added. An argument that a claim is allowable or that all claims are generic is considered non-responsive unless accompanied by an election.

Upon the allowance of a generic claim, applicant will be entitled to consideration of claims to additional species which are written in dependent form or otherwise include all the limitations of an allowed generic claim as provided by 37 CFR 1.141. If claims are added after the election, applicant must indicate which are readable upon the elected species. MPEP § 809.02(a).

The claims are deemed to correspond to the species listed above in the following manner:

Elect one ligand from Claim 3. The following claim(s) are generic: 1-2, 6-8, 10-15, 18-22 and 31-33.

The species listed above do not relate to a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1 because, under PCT Rule 13.2, the species lack the same or corresponding special technical features for the following reasons: Each ligand in Claim 3 are different from each other by both structurally and functionally, and lacks special technical features of a composition comprising the ligand binding domain of farnesoid X receptor (FXR) in crystalline form.

Election

4. Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include (i) an election of a species or invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143) and (ii) identification of the claims encompassing the elected invention.

The election of an invention or species may be made with or without traverse. To reserve a right to petition, the election must be made with traverse. If the reply does not distinctly and specifically point out supposed errors in the restriction requirement, the election shall be treated as an election without traverse.

Should applicant traverse on the ground that the inventions or species are not patentably distinct, applicant should submit evidence or identify such evidence now of record showing the inventions or species to be obvious variants or clearly admit on the record that this is the case. In either instance, if the examiner finds one of the inventions unpatentable over the prior art, the evidence or admission may be used in a rejection under 35 U.S.C.103(a) of the other invention.

Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a request under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(i).

Notice of Possible Rejoinder

5. The examiner has required restriction between product and process claims. Where applicant elects claims directed to the product, and a product claim is subsequently found allowable, withdrawn process claims that depend from or otherwise include all the limitations of the allowable product claim will be rejoined in accordance with the provisions of MPEP § 821.04. Process claims that depend from or otherwise include all the limitations of the patentable product will be entered as a matter of right if the amendment is presented prior to final rejection or allowance, whichever is earlier. Amendments submitted after final rejection are governed by 37 CFR 1.116; amendments submitted after allowance are governed by 37 CFR 1.312.

In the event of rejoinder, the requirement for restriction between the product claims and the rejoined process claims will be withdrawn, and the rejoined process claims will be fully examined for patentability in accordance with 37 CFR 1.104. Thus, to be allowable, the rejoined claims must meet all criteria for patentability including the requirements of 35 U.S.C. 101, 102, 103, and 112. Until an elected product claim is found allowable, an otherwise proper restriction requirement between product claims and process claims may be maintained. Withdrawn process claims that are not commensurate in scope with an allowed product claim will not be rejoined. See “Guidance on Treatment of Product and Process Claims in light of In re Ochiai, In re Brouwer and 35 U.S.C. § 103(b),” 1184 O.G. 86 (March 26, 1996). Additionally, in order to retain the right to rejoinder in accordance with the above policy, Applicant is advised that the process claims should be amended during prosecution either to maintain dependency on the product claims or to otherwise include the limitations of the product claims. Failure to do so may result in a loss of the right to rejoinder.

Further, note that the prohibition against double patenting rejections of 35 U.S.C. 121 does not apply where the restriction requirement is withdrawn by the examiner before the patent issues. See MPEP § 804.01.
